Inform candidates of GMRW's rules regarding campaign literature, petitions, campaign tables, and meeting reservations.

Be familiar with GMRW Rules:

Meetings:

Republican candidates may be invited to attend and speak to the members of GMRW at a monthly meeting. Candidates pay the cost of their meal in order to attend and agree to speak to their platform and answer member questions.

Campaign materials (flyers, buttons, yard signs, etc.) must remain at campaign tables.

These rules apply to all Republican GMRW sponsored gatherings.

Prior to having materials present at any GMRW event, candidates must contact GMRW Candidate Liaison for instructions.

Only Republican Candidates are permitted to put out petitions at any time.

Republican Candidates are permitted to put out their petitions at the designated petition table and only before and/or after GMRW events. Petitions are not allowed to be walked around at any time during an event.

Republican Candidates or their campaign representative must stay with the petition throughout the allotted time period. No non-Republican campaign representative may attend.

All registered Republican Candidates may set out petitions regardless of GMRW membership status.

Once petition is submitted and candidate is on the Ballot, candidate may be asked to participate in the GMRW Forum. All vetting done by GMRW from publicly available information will be shared with attendees, including voting records.
